

Refrigeration & energy management for exactly the right temperature

Cooling, heating, refrigerating, air-conditioning – Technological innovations help to make these tasks in brick-and-mortar stores more efficient less energy-intensive. Monitoring of energy consumption and the sustainability of these systems are therefore particularly important.

