

Patrizia Giangualano – Member of the Board of Directors

Born in Milan, she graduated in Business Administration and obtained a master's degree in Tax Law at Bocconi University. After an initial period spent in the prestigious Montedison's Strategy Office as a business analyst (1985), she joined IBM in 1986, where over 12 years she held increasing responsibilities, from marketing manager to general manager and board member of several subsidiaries.

From 1998 to 2007, she played senior roles in the Financial Institutions practices of prominent management consulting firms, including A.T. Kearney and Capgemini/EY. From 2007 to 2016 she was an associate partner with PwC, where since 2010 she has spearheaded the Governance, risk and compliance competency area.

She is currently Executive Advisor of major Corporations and Financial Institutions for the design and implementation of Governance and Sustainability programs.

Since March 2019, she has been a member of the Board of Directors of Epta and she is also President of the Control and Risk Committee.